

Land Use Associate Attorney - Junior

Job #A20190906 – Portland, Oregon

The Portland office of Perkins Coie is seeking a Junior Land Use associate attorney to join our Real Estate & Land Use practice group. Required for consideration is 0-5 years of relevant Land Use and Development experience. The successful candidate is required to have an excellent law school academic record, superior legal writing and oral advocacy skills, and an enthusiasm for the practice of land use law. Prior work experience in public or private sector land use or municipal law, including permitting and development work, is preferred. Interest and experience in real estate law is a plus. Successful candidates also will demonstrate an attention to detail, strong work ethic, commitment to client service, and the ability to work well in a team environment.

Our Real Estate & Land Use practice focuses on acquisitions and dispositions, leasing, permitting, construction & development, financing, and real estate investment across a wide variety of property types and industry sectors. As an Am Law 50 firm and one of the most prestigious law firms on the West Coast, this is an excellent opportunity to join a highly supportive working environment while handling sophisticated matters at both a local and a national level.
