School of Criminal Justice

Open Position Instructor of Criminal Justice

The School of Criminal Justice at Wichita State University is seeking applicants to apply for a full time (9 month) non-tenure track Instructor of Criminal Justice beginning August 2020. We seek a legal specialist who can teach courses including but not limited to Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Criminal Evidence, Courts and Judicial System, and others as assigned. Candidates for the position must be willing to teach both online and in the classroom.

Qualifications: Candidates must have an earned law degree (JD). Candidates holding both the earned JD and PhD degree in Criminal Justice or closely related discipline will also be considered for this position.

The position requires the selected candidate to teach both face to face in the classroom and online courses, advise students as needed, and engage in department, college, and university service. The position has a 4/4 course teaching load based on a semester system. Prior experience practicing criminal law is required. Experience teaching in the classroom and online courses is a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to diversity.
