

Job Posting

A Western-Washington non-profit organization working to protect the environment and the communities of the central Salish Sea region and our climate is seeking requests for qualifications/proposals with regard to its legal needs for environmental issues including advice and counsel, litigation and administrative matters, such as regulatory permitting processes, on the local, state and federal levels. The organization is seeking applicants with experience in these areas in anticipation of future legal needs. Attorneys licensed in Washington may respond to this request. Responsive materials may include by example, a resume, a reference to a website or similar materials providing areas of experience, representative matters and other relevant information. Please provide materials to:
