

Employee Benefits/ERISA Associate

Cohen Milstein is one of the country's premier class action firms. With more than 100 attorneys and six offices, we specialize in groundbreaking and high-stakes litigation concerning Antitrust, Civil Rights and Employment, Consumer Protection, Securities Fraud and Investor Protection, Employee Benefits, Qui Tam/False Claims Act, International Human Rights, Catastrophic Injury, and Public Client matters, representing state attorneys general in civil law enforcement investigations and litigation.

Cohen Milstein's Washington, DC office seeks an Associate for the Employee Benefits/ERISA Practice, which represents employees in federal class action lawsuits alleging mismanagement, self-dealing, conflicts of interest, and other breaches of fiduciary duty by those charged with safeguarding employee benefits plans like 401(k) plans and employer-sponsored health plans. The ERISA Practice is committed to protecting employees' rights to secure retirement savings and to the health care benefits they have earned and been promised as part of their compensation. Cohen Milstein has one of the leading ERISA practices in the nation, and the group has recovered hundreds of millions of dollars for employees and retirees.

Associates in the ERISA Practice play an active role in all aspects of litigation: new case investigation, brief writing, the pre-trial discovery process, including taking and defending depositions, and appearing in the federal courts. And because ERISA issues are frequently taken up by the U.S. Supreme Court, the ERISA Practice often is involved in both amicus briefing and litigation before the Supreme Court. This position would be an ideal match for someone who is interested in a career in federal district court litigation, and who is committed to protecting employees' rights.

Applicants should have the following skills and qualifications:

- 1 year of litigation experience (which may include prior clerkship experience);
- A strong academic background and excellent analytical and writing skills; and
- The ability to manage multiple responsibilities and thrive in a fast-paced work environment with court-imposed deadlines.

Candidates must be an active member of the DC Bar or be willing to apply for membership within 90 days of employment at the firm.

To be considered for this opportunity, please visit our Firm's careers page at www.cohenmilstein.com/careers to submit a cover letter, resume and transcript and writing sample. Application materials should be submitted in the order outlined above, and as a single PDF document.
